Journal Policies

Coming to journal policies, we are following the strict rules against falsification and fabrication of articles. We displayed all the details regarding author guidelines and publication policies in our website page. We organized a sequential order of tasks from plagiarism checking to till the manuscript publication. Our journal proceedings were done through online only and the tracking system was available for the author convenience. We offered double blind peer review for effective corrections and to improve the paper quality without any bias. IJCPMS sponsored by Pharma Springs Publications is a member of the cross check plagiarism detection initiative. In cases of suspected plagiarism, cross check is available to the editors of our journals to detect instances of overlapping and similar text in submitted manuscripts.

Our journal follows strict publication ethics policy to avoid any type of ethical misconduct. Author should submit the copy right form and will be responsible for all the proceedings. We are allotting a unique DOI (Digital Object Identifier) number for every manuscript's own identity. All the accepted manuscripts are scheduled to the relative issues and published in the website quarterly. Those published papers are available in online as an open access that should be funded through APC (Article Processing Charges) paid by authors. Later the papers were indexed in related data bases.

Future Perspectives

We are further planning to publish editorial note in every issue on academic writing, and how to present statistical analysis results in their respective manuscripts. In this first issue you can find original research articles, case reports and a review article in our journal page. We even encourage you to submit the letter to the editor, short communications and your opinions on any novel issues. We invite your suggestions and topics on public health issues & their solutions to attract the readers and create a platform for great emerging idea sharing. Let's cultivate the culture of learning in the scientific research wing. Our editors will address various hot & emerging issues and even focusing on language editing tips to publish as editorial note. These all initiatives will be helpful to the authors to better themselves and will add as another feather in their cap of article writing. We look forward for the contributions from authors, academicians and research scholar from all the fields of biological sciences, medical sciences, pharmaceutical sciences and public health.
